SoEquity Corporation is a new California inspired business movement that stimulates the profitability of the best social equity cannabis enterprises for participating investors. This can include you! We are led by cannabis industry visionary Calvin Frye, scientist, community leader and business authority. His team is combining profit and progress into an exciting new model for socially conscious investors. It takes fair trade concepts to the next level.

SoEquity Corporation harvests the multi-billion dollar success potential of approved social equity cannabis license holders in many states. We combine mentorship and financing in a unique manner that unleashes positive results, all with the help of our proven and qualified advisors. In return for this skilled input, SoEquity Corporation gains powerful profit sharing arrangements for our shareholders.

SoEquity Corporation is a new public company, being created now. It democratizes direct investment. This benefits all people who would not ordinarily have corporate "inside connections" to be introduced to curated deals, or even know how to participate.

Our 100% legal, mentorship-guided cannabis business opportunities begin exclusively amongst social equity license holders. These have special dynamics and can be immensely profitable. Shared ownership of SoEquity Corporation will be available to any adult in America under new Regulation A+ provisions of the United States Securities and Exchange Commission, following qualification.

Social equity can, and does, deliver immense profit opportunity. Be part of it!
